Parents and students are bound to have lots of questions when getting started with brand-new curriculum. Here are some questions we anticipate will be the most common as we kick off the 2018-19 school year:

- What materials will we use?

The core StudySync materials are the consumable Student Reading/Writing Companion, the spiral-bound Teacher's edition, and an answer key booklet that includes a modified pacing guide and assessments. If you filled out a curriculum order form, your print materials should be included in your bag. There is also an online component for which every student will have an account.

- What other materials are available?

Spelling and vocabulary materials, as well as Extended Text Study units are available at the Annex.

- Do we have to do everything online?

No. The program is designed to work solely online, with print materials only, or a combination of the two.

- How do I keep track of my child's completed work, and work that still needs to be done?

Parents are encouraged to log on to their child's account frequently to check the binder, review and grade completed work, and/or print samples for closer review or turn in to EC's.

- Is it okay if we're not starting on Unit 1?

Every unit is considered "stand-alone," so units can be done in any order.

- What do I do when my child completes a unit?

Start by letting your EC know. He/she will make sure your child is moved into the next unit in their online account. You'll need to pick up the materials for the corresponding unit at the Annex. (You may want to do an end-of unit assessment before moving on.)

- Who can I contact if I have questions?

If your EC is not available, try one of the following StudySync point persons:
